

THE BITTER END

[verse 1]

One day is all it takes, to realize all the waste and there you are
Your stuck with thoughts that hope can generate
Sunk in the pace of the game called the human race
And so I say:

[chorus]

Run, no stop, then run once again
And do it again until the bitter end
(repeat)

[verse 2]

Some days ago, you know, the time was right to give this life a try
But then regret was held up to your eye
And the days and the years and the weeks went flying by
And so I say:

[chorus]

[solo]

[verse 3]

A glance awakes the breaks we spend our days in ways in search of till we find
It's all a curse and so I sing this verse
Think of the future but live your life today
And so I say:

[chorus]
