

Bombshell World

Another world is real
Hear the turning of the gears
The sum of all your fears
And all your doubts

Something's on the tube
A bombshell world away
Where all the people pray

In the afternoon
Light comes shining through
Shadow casts a light on you
As you sleep

Song of a whippoorwill
Makes longing disappear
Playing on the inner ear
In the heat

Wind blows through the sand
Hear the preacher man
Talking how the world began
Dark from light

Dust burns in your nose
The hate within you grows
A body always knows

In a bombshell world

Believe in Superman

Believe in anything

Strong or proud

Believe in anything

Believe in Christ the King

Believe in all your dreams

You'll need them now
